

VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

SEPTEMBER 10-13 2024

Register now for a patient-led conference on patient engagement in research

The PxP (For Patients, By Patients) 2024 conference will be September 10-12 (for those in Europe, Africa or North, Central and South America), or September 11-13 (Asia and Oceania).

This free, virtual event aims to bring you resources, mentorship and community with patient partners and others involved in health research. Ultimately, our goal is partnering to make research stronger.

Click here to register!

Full session details will be available soon. Topics will include:

- Power balance in patient engagement
- Building diversity and capacity in patient partners
- How to publish as (or with) patient partners
- Interactive 'ask me anything' sessions
- and much more!

PxP 2024 has become a must-attend event, in particular because PxP is specifically For Patients. Although we welcome everyone to join us at the event in September, our key priority will be patient partners and other people with lived experience.

We are led entirely By Patients. Every topic and speaker on the PxP conference program has been chosen by our experienced international committee of patient partners.

Sign up here to receive news and updates about PxP.

Follow us on X \(Twitter\), Instagram and LinkedIn.

Download social media images here to share with your networks.

2024 Steering Committee hope statement: To unite, inspire, and empower patients on their journey to health and wellness. May this summit be a beacon of hope fostering community, knowledge, and resilience as we navigate challenges together. Let us stand strong, advocate boldly, and transform research and healthcare for a brighter, healthier future.